Merry Christmas & Happy New Year

"all gave some, some gave all"

By Jill Wright tribalnews@fpst.org

He stood quietly in the back of the tribal gym for the hour ceremony celebrating our own tribal members at our Veterans Day Observance. His being there wasn't new. It wasn't to satisfy some cross cultural curiosity. This is what he does, because it is who he is.

Steve Ranson, is a dedicated advocate for veterans. He reminds all those who hear his words of the sacrifices America's veterans make every day, around the world, to keep us safe and free to live our lives the way we want to. Ranson does not limit his words to one faction of America's society. His words of recognition span the diverse make up of our nation's military without favor.

Veterans; Chairman Len George and Steve Ranson

One way Steve Ranson promotes and honors our Native American Veterans is by furthering understanding of the distinct and matchless issues they faced in their service to our country. Steve started the Native American Veterans Project by forming a list of Native American veterans in September. Steve shares their stories of their time in military service by putting them on the cover of our local newspaper, the Lahontan Valley News. No other group in American history has ever been called on to offer their lives' as a sacrifice to our country as were Native American soldiers. Many, if not most people are familiar with the unique contribution made by Native American Code Talkers. What many don't know is that each Code talker was assigned a non-native body guard. What was different about these body guards, was if the Native was about to be captured by enemy forces, their job was to kill the Native speaker to avoid their capture. Who can imagine the trauma of knowing death may not come from your enemy, but from your fellow soldiers as well.

"Interviewing some of these Veterans has been a struggle. Some of them just don't want to talk," says Ranson.

He has covered military stories, local news, high school sports, the School Board, The County Commission, the Fallon Naval Base and the Fallon Tribe. Ranson's beginning as a journalist is as non-pretentious as he is. He began his career in Wells Nevada in 1976 when he began writing for the local weekly paper run by his first wife, the Wells Progress.

Steve Ranson was in the Nevada Army National Guard in 1981 to 1984 and 1987-2009. US Army Reserve Panama, 1984-1986. Steve was a USAR Broadcast officer and worked with reserve troops that came to Panama and was a reporter and producer. He was also an English teacher/yearbook adviser at the Department of Defense Dependents School. Balboa High School.

Ranson's career path eventually returned him to Nevada where he found himself in Churchill County,

MARGOT DYER

TRIBAL SECRETARY
SECRETARY@FPST.ORG

The Secretary is a member of the Natural Resource Conservation Services (NRCS), Nevada Tribal Advisory Council (TAC) which is comprised of all Nevada Tribes who meet prior to all NRCS-Nevada State Technical Advisory Committee meetings. The TAC is of utmost importance to be involved with programs, agencies and other organizations that deal with agriculture issues and funding available to Tribes and Tribal members. As we know, in the beginning our people relied on farming and ranching to provide for our families.

In October the Native Waters on Arid Lands Fifth Annual Tribal Summit 2019, sponsored by the University of Nevada Cooperative Extension, was attended in Reno. The USDA was present to share the farmers' guide to Farm Bill programs and announced grant funding that is available to Tribe's and individuals; which include tribal food sovereignty, renewable energy systems, solar energy system, etc. The USDA website (www.farmers.gov and www.rd.usda.gov/nv) is a good tool to learn more what is available. Presentations included Measuring and Mitigating Salinity in Water for Agriculture, Climate Change, and many more water related presentations. The knowledge shared is important for our Tribe due to drought years and also because we are at the bottom of the water stream. The main focus was all our reservations have to continually assert our rights to the water for sustainability of our Tribal resources and find better ways to efficiently work our lands to produce and provide for our people. Walker River spoke of the loss of their fish in Walker Lake and that they are the Agai Dicutta. It is with heartfelt sadness that today we face such losses as this, our voices are not heard. Walker River has been litigating for their water rights for over a century. Online information on western U.S. tribal water right settlements and decrees can be found on www.nwal.dri.edu/NWALAccount/NRegister. There were also success stories shared, which included the Tribal Food Sovereignty programs and Tribes that have been successful in Industrial Hemp production. Nevertheless we must continue to collaborate and work in unity for all Tribes treaty rights and holding the Federal government accountable for the betterment of our Tribal Nations.

Recently the TERO Commission filled four of the five vacancies and appointed two tribal employees which were Rosalinda Berremen and Vicki Moyle; and two Council Members Tamika FastHorse and Natalie Pacheco. We are still looking for one Tribal or community member to sit on the TERO Commission. Please put your name if you are interested.

The following are vacant committee positions:

-The Stillwater Tribal Senior Committee - two (2) committee members

-TERO Commission – one (1) committee member (tribal or community member)

There will be three (3) Land & Water Resources Committee appointments expiring on December 31, 2019.

The Cultural Committee Bylaws was approved by the Council on November 26th and will consist of five (5) members

V. MEMBERSHIP

a. The membership shall be five persons all of whom possess experience and knowledge of the Toi-Dicutta people/Northern Paiute and Western Shoshone traditions and cultures. All members shall be appointed by the Fallon Business Council and shall serve staggered two-year terms. Any vacancy shall be posted and all interested persons shall apply in accordance with the Fallon Paiute-Shoshone Tribe Administration requirements.

b.Qualifications:

i. At least one Fallon Paiute-Shoshone Tribal Elder;

4th QUARTER SETTLEMENT FUND PORTFOLIO

Cambridge Associates is the Tribe's financial manager for the Settlement Fund and has been since 2003. Cambridge is a large and reputable financial management firm and manages many large endowments, in fact one of its clients is Harvard University. Cambridge makes quarterly presentations to the Tribe on the status of our investments. The Tribe's Settlement Fund Fiscal Year is from October 1st to September 30th. Cambridge made the fourth quarter presentation on November 6th.

At the November 6th meeting Cambridge recommended a rebalance to the equity portfolio as well as raise cash for future spending. As stated in the quarterly report:

"We recommend partial redemption of $250,000 from Principal Diversified Real Asset Fund."

LEARNING POINT:

As we all know the Tribe's investment portfolio is comprised of a variety of different types of investments. It is at this time of year we must cash in some of those investments to pay for the 6% Spending Rule for the coming year's budget. The 6% Spending Rule also includes the amount which is available for our Per Capita payment. Because of the individual investments selected for redemption or cashing in have their own internal process for cashing out, it can take up to 90 days for the Tribe to receive the deposit into Wells Fargo. To receive the cash by December, we have to be making estimates in September for the amount we think we will be needing.

Cambridge's overview of the current market projection is:

"During the third quarter there were rising trade tensions, central bank easing, and a weakening of global trade and manufacturing data."

Council voted to accept the recommendation.

The December calendar is very busy, please see:

December 5 – Council signs Per Cap checks
December 6 – Per Cap checks mailed
December 10 – Council Meeting
December 11 – Special Public Meeting for presentation of 2020 Tribal Budget
December 14 – Tribal Christmas Dinner
December 17 – Council Meeting, 2020 Tribal Budget approval
December 18 – Chairman's Annual State of the Tribe Address
December 24 – Tribe closes at noon
December 25 thru 27 – Christmas Holiday
December 31 – Tribe closes early
January 1 – New Year's Day

Have a blessed and happy Thanksgiving!

Chairman George swears in newly appointed Chief Judge Ramon Acosta making his home in Fallon. His journalistic prowess prompted the Guard's State Headquarters to have him remain stationed in Nevada. Here he focused his talents and abilities, concentrating on historical books, creating and maintaining documentations on deployment, recording information on the soldiers who were transferred overseas, ensuring the units deployed were accurately accounted for when they returned.

It was during this time Steve recognized how hard active duty can be on soldiers who are in the midst of it. "A lot of Veterans have never told their stories before, the reason they opened up is because when I sit down to interview them, it's one Veteran to another." Says Ranson. Steve told me he has done a lot of reading to become familiar with the subject of PTSD, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

Steve's concerns started when he realized they hit close to home. Steve shared with me that his father served on a Landing Ship Tank (LST) which is the naval designation for ships first developed during World War II (1939-1945). The ship was designed to support amphibious operations by carrying tanks, vehicles, cargo, and landing troops directly onto a shore with no docks or piers. Steve told me his father never wanted to talk about his time in the service.

Remarkably, years later, Steve visited a war veteran at Homestead Assisted Living facility, who also served on an LST. The man shared with him how difficult it is to talk about the worst memories imaginable from his life in combat. Near death experiences, loosing friends who were there with you one minute and gone the next. They all still resurrect times he would rather have never lived through.

World War II veterans are not alone in these memories of horror and loss. Ranson discovered a current number of Veterans that have served in Afghanistan with multiple tours struggle at home with PTSD. This number is much higher than a Vietnam Veteran who was deployed only once. The United States Veterans Department, The State of Nevada as well as the Veterans of Foreign Wars maintain programs for veterans who suffer from PTSD.

Ranson recognizes the unique and "all in" commitment our veterans make to our county, our people and our way of life. He also recognizes the suffering and rejection some of them endured following their return home. Who of age can forget the demonstrations against the Vietnam War that manifested in inexcusable injustice focused on our veterans.

Steve Ranson, a Veteran, journalist, photographer, and advocate for veterans of all origins. Whether from the Fallon Naval Air Station, or the Fallon Paiute-Shoshone Tribe, he speaks for them all. Most importantly he speaks for all those who stand in honor and tribute to the phrase "all gave some, some gave all."

Let's Talk Turkey

Turkey Trot and Turkey Dinner

By Jill Wright tribalnews@fpst.org

Before feasting at the Tribal Thanksgiving Dinner held on Saturday, November 16, many families participated in another tradition, a turkey trot hosted by the Toi-Ticutta Wellness Center. It's a great way to start off the day, show up and have fun as you burn off calories before you eat. There were walkers/runners of all ages joining in the fun on a brisk beautiful morning.

Hosting a Thanksgiving Dinner can overwhelm any cook, but not my "Gordon Ramsay Kitchen Crew", consisting of Ray Allen, Karen Gunnells, Chief Emerson, Vanessa Charley, Harry Butterbredt, Juliana Dixon, and Iisha Lopez. Planning is done well in advance to ensure that the dinner goes smoothly. Starting at 8 a.m., preparations began and by 11:30 30 a.m., Lorna Street delivered 30 hot turkey dinners to homebound seniors, which is a tradition with all the trimmings.

A great way to show hospitality, Lynette Fisherman and Kendra Pacheco greeted guests as they arrived as people signed up at the raffle table. There were lots of incredible raffle prizes; over $3000 in gas cards, Fox Peak Movie Tickets, 15 gift baskets donated by various tribal programs and several door prizes that were raffled off during the event.

To make guest feel welcome as they sat down, they were offered an array of rye, sourdough, wholewheat, multigrain and dinner rolls with butter by volunteer youth Mattie Zulz, John Zulz and Olivia Chasingcrow.

Joey Fanjul, who set the mood with a smile, was the Emcee who introduced Council Member Natalie Pacheco as she welcomed the guests and shared some of her favorite inspirational quotes. Following Council Member Pacheco was Rev. Ernie Hooper as he gave the invocation. This year the Tribe used the back community room to serve a traditional dinner, which worked out smoothly as volunteers lined up to the T-day fixings of: turkey, ham, stuffing, vegetables, salad, mashed potatoes and gravy. Community members brought their favorite side dish which was a favorite with guests.

Servers were Council Member Ramona Chasingcrow, Council Member Natalie Pacheco, Victor Baltazar, Myndee Darcy, Rosalinda Berreman, Denea Zulz, Jolene Thomas and Jennifer Dendaas. Desserts were served by Katie Wiesmann, Ezekiel Downs & Mitchell Wright.

Kids participate in the Toi-Ticutta Turkey Trot on Mission Road

Once the dinner was over MC Joey Fanjul he announced for both youth and adults to come up for the Turkey Calling Contest. Following the turkey calling contest, the raffle continued with $3000 donated both gas cards and movie tickets, 15 gift baskets, and various other raffle prizes. Also the Stillwater Indian Church announced their silent auction raffle winner for beautiful Christmas wreaths.

We would like to thank the Fallon Business Council, FTDC, the kitchen crew, all departments, volunteers, and all the donations for helping making this year's Thanksgiving a time to be both grateful and thankful. Remember one way to practice gratitude is to look for the best in everyone.

FPST Water Treatment Facility Upgrades to a HVAC Unit

The Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe knows the value of a powerful AC system in the middle of summer, and the quality of modern cooling systems have advanced dramatically, that is why more and more business and homeowners are converting to a far more efficient AC Unit.

The FPST Water Treatment Facility was able to replace their swamp cooler unit with the assistance from IHS with a new HVAC Unit. Just-In-Time HVAC was awarded the bid. Construction was done and completed in November, with the final inspection of the project completed on November 25th, 2019. Use Taxes and TERO fees were collected on this project. In addition a new tank was also installed.

The U.S. is home to about 200,000 American Indian veterans- proportionately almost triple that of the non Indian population - demonstrating that American Indians play an important role in the U.S. military. They also hold a distinguished status in Indian country.

The Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe hosted their Annual Veterans Day Observance at the Tribal Gymnasium. The tribe proudly showed a Veterans slideshow and a Picture Display on a beautiful Pendleton Blanket.

Family and friends came to honor our local Veterans as everyone joined in a moment of silence during the event. Chairman Len George stated, "We would like to recognize and honor all of our Veterans and military personnel and their families for their sacrifices and service they made". In addition, in honor of our Veterans, the Fallon Tribe also purchased "Brotherhood of Veterans" Jackets acknowledging their service. We would like to thank Council Member Ramona Chasingcrow, Joey Fanjul, Melanie McFalls, Lynette Fisherman, Vanessa Charley, Derick Chiefchild, Melisa Meza, CLC Staff and youth, and most of all, our veterans for their service. -30-

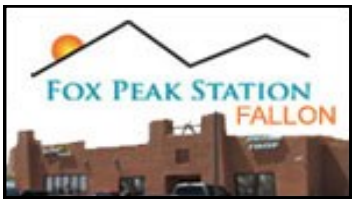
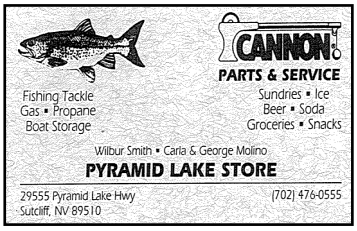
NATIVE AMERICAN BUSINESS ENTERPRISES





Have an upcoming event or community announcement? Make sure it's in the Numa News Newsletter!

The Fallon Paiute-Shoshone Tribe provides a venue to list/post upcoming events and community announcements in its Numa News publication. This service is being offered to provide people with an opportunity to share information with the members of the Fallon Paiute-Shoshone Tribe. If you have an event or announcement of public interest you may email tribalnews@fpst.org or by mail to 565 Rio Vista Drive, Fallon, NV 89406 (Attn: Numa News) for consideration. For events include the event name, date, time, location and event website, along with a brief description and contact information. The Tribe is not responsible for inaccurate information, including but not limited to incorrect dates, times, and locations, published in the newsletter. All information should be submitted by the 1st of the month for approval prior to publish in the next month's edition. The Tribe reserves the right to decline event submissions, as well as to edit event information for length, spelling, clarity, and language. The newsletter is not intended to be used as a promotional vehicle for commercial interests or events (unless from Fallon Tribal programs/entities). References or hyperlinks in the Numa News to any individual or entity are for informational purposes only and are not an endorsement by the Tribe or Council. The Tribe is providing no legal, accounting or other professional advice by including references to any entity or individual. Deadline is the 1st of each month so don't wait!
