Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribal Chairman Steps Down

By Jill Wright  tribalnews@fpst.org

The Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribal Chairman Alvin Moyle steps down, citing health reasons.

July 2nd, 2020 marked his last day as Chairman. He was elected Chairman in October 2020 to a four-year term that would have been effective through the next tribal election in October of 2024. Yvonne Mori, the tribe’s Vice-Chairman, will assume responsibilities as acting chairman until a replacement is appointed in accordance with the tribe’s constitution.

Chairman Moyle is a man of depth, a man of caring, and common sense. A simple man, who has a unique way of un-complicating even the most challenging of situations. A man of integrity who always tries to do the right thing whatever the situation may be. His clarity of thought and analysis has guided this tribe through some of the most difficult of political times in it’s history.

Chairman Moyle has proudly served the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe for 22 years. He served as Tribal Chairman for 16 years, 2 years as Tribal Vice-Chairman and 4 years as Tribal Council Member. One year Chairman of Fallon Tribal Development Corporation, 1 year Chairman Nevada Indian Housing Authority Association-Bureau of Indian Affairs, 2 Terms President of Inter-Tribal Council of Nevada, 1 Term Vice-President of Inter-Tribal Council of Nevada. He served 1 year as Delegate for the Western Region Tribes NV/AZ/UT for the development of the Trust Reform Policies – BIA, 2 years Vice President of the Western Region Tribes NV/AZ/UT National Congress of American Indians, 2 years State of Nevada Indian Commission, Commissioner Gubernatorial Appointment, 4 years United States Marine Corp – Honorable Discharge as Corporal.

Some additional highlights during his years as Chairman include:

- Testified before a select committee of Congress in Washington DC on what was to become a Bill regarding our settlement. The outcome became Public Law 101-618.
- Testified in Federal District Court for our right to purchase land off the reservation. The purchase was for the 37 acres in the town of Fallon. The District Court judge ruled we had a right to purchase lands off the reservation.
- Presented a Brief regarding our Government to Government relationship with the State of Nevada, State Governor, Kenny Guinn.
- Nevada Associate for Four Directions Inc. of Mission, South Dakota, assisted with the development of Official Voting sites at the Pyramid Lake and Walker River Reservations. The outcome of the case resulted in an agreement with the State of Nevada to allow election polls on all Nevada reservations.
- Agreement with Nevada Energy and Black Rock Solar for the installation of six solar arrays on some of our government offices to offset the energy cost, A Net Metering Project.
- Removal and replacement of the potable water delivery systems on the colony for the improved well-being and health of the residents.
- Instrumental in the purchase and development of Fox Peak, Fallon and Fox Peak, Fernley convenience stores.

Invited to the White House under the presidency of Barack Obama to attend a leadership conference to make our statement of challenges faced by Tribal Communities. This was quite an honor.

Contributed in the repatriation of ancestral remains formally, held for study by archeologists, who declared themselves as “Friends of the People.” There were several remains that we repatriated, with one of them being the Spirit Cave ancestor.

Aided in the improvement of Fallon Tribal issues that allowed for increased and delivery of services which include Housing, Health Clinic, Natural and Cultural Resource, Education, Environmental, and Transportation.

He leaves with full confidence that with the leadership of the Tribal Council, the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe will continue to grow and thrive in which we live and work. His hopes are that we can all work together in unity, which is the only way we can succeed.

Local leaders also weighed in on Moyle’s legacy

“Throughout the years I have worked on many issues with Chairman Moyle. Even though, at times, we did not always agree we always understood each other’s position. I always have had a great respect for the Chairman and enjoyed working with him. He has accomplished much in his career. Alvin Moyle is a very nice, genuine man. I wish him the very best in his retirement.”
~Mayor Ken Tedford

“Working with Alvin was a pleasure. He was extremely dedicated to the Tribe generally and repatriation of Spirit Cave in particular. When he spoke publicly about issues, he spoke from his heart.”
~Attorney Brian Chestnut

“Rarely, have I ever had the privilege of getting to know a leader who rises to the caliber of Chairman Alvin Moyle. Whether it was working through issues here at home, negotiating with City or County governments to enhance the economic future of the tribe, with the State of Nevada, to secure a gaming compact, or the immeasurable challenges to sovereignty presented by anti-Indian sentiment in The Congress of the United States of America, The Fallon Paiute– Shoshone Tribe has truly been blest through his leadership. Alvin has dedicated his life to preserving the culture of his tribe while setting in motion projects and programs designed to secure and magnify the future for the youth of the tribe. Alvin Moyle’s contributions will ring on for generations to come. He will be missed.”
~Mitchell C. Wright, Esq.
Former General Counsel FPST

“As a daughter, I was privileged to witness his struggles, frustrations, and most of all accomplishments. I have learned that true success comes with having courage to fight through adversity and at times unsurmountable strife. That the most generationally important decisions take vision, negotiation, and cooperation.

I grew up drawing pictures on the floor of his office, making beds out of office chairs and falling asleep to the light of his lamp as he stayed up going over notes and jotting down ideas. As an adult it has been phenomenal to share ideas and have discussions just like the ones I witnessed him have with my uncles, Leonard and Gerald Allen.

The outcome of his career has created a legacy we should all strive for–to be honest, act with your heart, be vocal when given an opportunity, show respect for yourself, your land, and your people and never stop educating yourself and working hard to achieve your goals”.
~Denea Moyle-Zulz

Alvin Moyle now concludes his impressive political career– that of a leader who truly cares for his people.

Dear Members of the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe,

As many of you know, I had an accident back in March of this year that caused several serious injuries to my body, which included numerous broken bones. The past 3 ½ months have been very trying on me. I have been doing everything possible to help me recover from the injuries I sustained, but unfortunately I have had some setbacks that are out of my control.

This letter is to inform you that due to health reasons, I am stepping down from my seat as the Chairman of the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe’s Business Council. This has been a very hard decision for me to make, but due to my health, I am no longer able to serve in the seat that I was elected to.

I had the pleasure of serving you not only as your Chairman for many years, but also in other seats of the Business Council. Together, we accomplished a lot over the years and serving you is an honor that I will carry with me for the rest of my life.

I apologize to all of you for having to leave my seat that I was elected to in 2020, however the Creator had another plan for me and with my health I am no longer able to fulfill my duties as your Chairman.

I appreciate all of the good thoughts and prayers that were sent to me in the past few months. Your kindness has not gone unnoticed and I would like to thank you from the bottom of my heart.

May the Creator bless each and every one of you always.

Sincerely,

Alvin Moyle
August 3, 2021

Alvin Moyle, Chairman
Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe
Fallon, Nevada

Dear Chairman Moyle,

As Governor of the State of Nevada, I would like to congratulate you on your dedication and tireless work with the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe. Your many years of service in various positions with the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe and the people of Nevada and the United States is most appreciated. During these new and trying times your work and voice are of utmost importance.

As you look towards Retirement, we look back on all you have accomplished with and for the people. You have initiated and completed many endeavors which include testifying in Washington D.C. for settlement and ability to purchase land off reservation for the betterment of your Tribe. Testified before Select Committees on Health Care Reform, Trust Responsibility of the Federal Government, and Land Restoration.

I sincerely admire your leadership, community service, and the extraordinary example you have set as a role model to others for the future of the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe and Nevada. The Silver State is proud of your heartfelt and enduring commitment to your people. We convey our thanks for your exceptional contributions.

Again, congratulations on your retirement.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

OFFICIAL TITLE 14 POSTING

POSTING DATE: Monday, July 12, 2021
Greetings from the Secretary

On behalf of the Fallon Business Council (FBC), I want to thank those who submitted a Committee Appointment form to become a committee member. The FBC recently appointed Teresa McDonald, Chairman. Donna Cossette and Jill Wright, Members to the Enrollment Committee. The Land & Water Resources Committee has two new members Cameron Allen and Amber Gonzales. In addition, Cameron Allen was recently appointed as an alternate member of the Tribal Election Committee. Welcome to your new appointments and thank you for your interest to serve your tribal members and community. You all have an important role as a recommending committee to the FBC. The FBC appoints committee members and the committee members appoint the officers of their committee.

In June, Alyssa Garcia, was sworn in to office and seated on the Fallon Tribal Development Corporation (FTDC) Board of Directors. Congratulations Alyssa on your new appointment as the Vice-President, FTDC Board of Directors. Alyssa has been active in serving on the Housing and Education Committee. Alyssa’s desire to contribute her time and knowledge to her Tribe is appreciated.

The Tribe is looking for interested individuals to serve on the Budget Committee. You must be a tribal member that is not an employee of the Tribe. We also, have five (5) vacant seats on the Public Works Committee. Sitting on a tribal committee gives you the opportunity to learn and be informed what our Tribe is doing and to have your voice heard. It is a big commitment but it is so important to share ideas and collaborate for the betterment of our Tribe.

On August 31, 2021, three (3) Higher Education committee member appointments will expire; and on September 30, 2021, there will be three (3) vacancies on the Housing Committee. Please if you are interested; submit your Committee Appointment form to the FBC Secretary’s office.

In June, several staff members and I attended The American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA), the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and Biden Administration Infrastructure Initiative Workshop. There was discussion regarding the $20 billion tribal Fiscal Recovery Fund, the $900 million for the BIA and funding for other Indian programs. As you know the Fallon Tribe received the first payment for $8,898,260, based on tribal enrollment and the second payment will be distributed soon, which is based on the number of tribal employees. We went over the Department of Treasury 31 CFR Part 35 (Interim guidance for Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds). This gave the Background Information, Eligible Uses: 1. Responding to COVID-19, 2. Responding to Negative Economic Impacts. Copies of the Federal Register and the Congressional Record regarding ARPA is in the lobby at the Administration Building.

There was in depth discussion regarding the Bureau of Indian Affairs Budget Justification & Appropriations, Activities and Program Elements, Program changes, fixed costs, and internal transfers. Review and discussion of the Bureau of Indian Affairs Budget Justifications and performance information for Fiscal Year 2021 and 2022, better known to tribal governments as “the green book.” Attending this workshop gave the participants a better understanding of the allowable costs under the ARPA, Infrastructure Initiatives, Congressional Budget Process, Interior Appropriations Act, and the outlook for the FY 2022 budget.

On March 18, 2020, the Fallon Tribe has been operating under a Declaration of Emergency in regards to the COVID-19 pandemic. Unfortunately, the State of Nevada and the Fallon Tribal Health Center are seeing more COVID-19 positive cases. The Fallon Business Council wants to encourage our community to consider getting your COVID-19 vaccine. The vaccine will help to protect you, your family, and our community. The Fallon Tribal Health Center will be posting notices and sending out more information regarding COVID-19.

Fallon Tribe Names New Police Chief

By Jill Wright tribalnews@fpst.org

The Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe is proud to announce the hiring of new Police Chief, Tim Rondeaux. Vice Chairman Yvonne Mori sworn him in on Monday, July 12, 2021 in the Council Chambers.

Vice Chairman stated, “We welcome our new Chief and his experience in Indian Country and we look forward to him bringing his strong sense of commitment, loyalty and knowledge to our tribal people. Law Enforcement is one of the most essential programs to the safety of our people and we look forward to Chief Rondeaux helping to maintain a safe and welcoming community for everyone.

Chief Rondeaux career started in Corrections in 1992 for the Crow Tribe. He transitioned in the BIA, where he worked and gained experience in Patrol, Supervisory Police Officer, Supervisory Corrections Program Specialist District IV Regional Offices in Billings Mt., Special Agent Division of Drug Enforcement for the South West Region, Phoenix AZ. Special Agent and a District Captain for the South West District located in Phoenix AZ. He also served in the Capacity of Chief of Police, Acting Assistant Special Agent in Charge for the District IV Regional Offices in Billing Montana.

Chief Rondeaux plans on maintaining a strong relationship with the surrounding law enforcement agencies, but his focus will be that of the tribal community, building and maintaining trust is the cornerstone of successful policing and will continue working towards community-police relationships, an essential element of moving forward. He is committed to public service and is honored to continue and expand upon that commitment. He has a deep understanding of our local and regional issues and we are excited to have him as our new Police Chief.

Sgt. John Moser served as interim police chief until Rondeaux was hired. Moser and his staff worked extra during uncertain situations during the pandemic in 2020 and continue to achieve the goal of protecting and serving our tribal community. They each have a positive presence.

Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe Law Enforcement

Firearms Training

Jill Wright tribalnews@fpst.org

Despite the high temperatures and poor air quality, the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe Law Enforcement Department attended firearms training and performed different firearm exercises on Monday, July 26.

Officers were trained in several different scenarios ranging from qualification to various techniques relative to real force-on-force situations and safety procedures. Paper silhouettes presenting threatening or non-threatening stimuli, have become prevalent in law enforcement training to prepare officers for situations in which they must quickly decide what force is needed.

Pyramid Lake Tribal Police Instructor Bryan Boren assisted in firearm training exercises as officers participated in various drills. FPST Law Enforcement Officers were also re-certified in the Taser.

We would like to thank Chief Rondeaux for his vital leading role in our community. We would also like to acknowledge Pyramid Lake Tribal Police Firearm Instructor Bryan Boren for his assistance.
Tamarisk Removal Project

By Jill Wright tribalnews@fpst.org

Tamarisk (Tamarix spp., salt-cedar) has become a serious threat to our tribal wetlands. Tamarisk outcompetes native vegetation and uses vast amounts of water. A large tamarisk can transpire 300 gallons of water a day. It is a deciduous shrub that can grow up to 15 ft. (4.6 m) in height. The bark is smooth and reddish on younger plants, turning brown and furrowed with age.

In 2020, the Tribe was awarded an EPA Non-Point Source Competitive grant of $100,000 to eradicate approximately 60 acres of tamarisk in the tribal wetlands.

The tamarisk removal project will enhance the tribal wetlands by reducing water consumption and salt into the ground.

This project has a crew of one equipment operator and two laborers; Phil Johnson, Andy Hicks & Krista Williams. They have been hard at work removing invasive Tamarisk from the banks of the tribal wetlands.

Typically, a small dozer uproots the trees, then the trees are pushed into piles and burned.

A goal of the project is to initiate the process of restoring the area to its original state, ensuring that native species can re-establish and flourish once more.

The project also seeks to re-establish nesting sites for various species of birds that live in the wetlands whose habitat has been altered by the invasion of tamarisk.

The tamarisk removal project began on May 3rd and will end on August 6th.

This project has required many hours of very hard work, and the efforts of everyone involved will help to restore this area to it’s original state.

"We were hired to remove 60 acres of invasive plants this year. After all the blisters, muscle aches and tears, it is safe to say we removed over 100 acres of invasive trees. It was a special experience being involved in the operation of uncovering overgrown ponds ~ Council Member Phil Johnson"

"Working out in the wetlands this summer has shown me the need to keep programs like this well funded. Not only does it provide jobs for tribal members, but also combats the invasive plant species taking over the pastures.~ Andy Hicks"

"Water the most essential to life, we don’t know how important it is till the well is dry... this drought has proved this year to see first hand in our wetlands ~ Krista Williams"

ILLEGAL DUMPING IS A CRIME
PROTECTING OUR PLANET STARTS WITH YOU

Land, water, soil and air pollution are primarily caused by illegal dumping. The chemicals and non-biodegradable materials in the waste affect the physical environment and the waterways by contaminating groundwater and soil.

To protect the Tribe’s limited resources, the Fallon Paiute-Shoshone Tribe adopted an Open Dump Ordinance, under Resolution 99-F-022, dated January 26, 1999. The Open Dump Ordinance prohibits the dumping on any public reservation lands, which includes, but is not limited to, any rubbish, swill, refuse, cans, bottles, paper, vegetable matter, carcass of any dead animals, trash, used motor vehicle tires, motor vehicle batteries, motor vehicle oils or fluids, sewage, sludge, garbage or other toxic and hazardous wastes. Intentional acts of dumping first offense may result in a fine not to exceed $25,000 per day, plus the costs of clean up.

The Environmental Protection Department is presently conducting an inventory of open dump sites on the reservation and will seek funding for clean-up and closure.

If you are aware of any open dump sites on the reservation, please let us know at 423-0590. Your assistance is appreciated. Thank you.

FPST Environmental Protection Department
Community Composting Pilot Project Survey

The Environmental Protection Department is proposing to initiate a community composting pilot project and is conducting a survey to determine community interest to participate in this project.

The purpose of compost is to reduce landfill disposal and convert organic waste into a benefit to the environment. Compost is rich in nutrients that can be added to soil as a conditioner to help plants grow.

The department proposes to collect and use food wastes from tribal departments and the community to make compost for the community garden.

Acceptable food scrap contributions would include: tea bags, coffee grounds, nutshells, coffee filters, fruit and vegetable scraps, grain products, eggs and egg shells, including compostable paper products.

Unacceptable waste includes: non-biodegradable waste, food cooked in oil, fats, oils, and grease (FOG), meats, bones and dairy, as they increase the potential for odors and vectors.

A limited number of participating community members would be provided with a bucket and lid for food waste collection by the department. If the pilot project is determined to be a success, it will be expanded and made into a permanent composting program.

If you are interested in participating in the composting pilot project, please let us know by calling 423-0590 during regular work hours or leave a message with contact information. Thank you for your interest.

Making Summer Count
Summer Recreation Program Returns

By Jill Wright tribalnews@fpst.org

Last year, the pandemic put a halt to many of our summer plans, which left many, especially our youth, excited to get back to swimming, parks, playgrounds, hiking, cultural arts and crafts and other summer activities. This seems to be the case for the community of the Fallon Paiute Shoshone Tribe.

The tribes Summer Recreation Program is back in full swing offering a modified summer program to accommodate social distancing protocols. Education Director Rochanne Downs said she is happy to see the enthusiasm in the youth this year, despite last year’s uncertainty.

There is a great summer program in place with gifted and talented staff; Rochanne Downs, Cathi Tuni, Austin Little, Chelsee Tuni, Shannon Hooper, Haylee Petrie and youth workers Makenzee Delacruze & Donovan Watahomigie, who helped plan summer learning activities that have made summer count.

Keeping children active, both mentally and physically as they utilize the library, kitchen, gym, common area and the computer room as they use technology as a tool for teaching and promoting creativity and imagination.

They are able to provide a summer that not only keeps our kids safe and healthy, but also allows them to flourish and regain some sense of normalcy as they ensure best practices are in place for the safest environment possible for participants.

We all know how summer goes: You have a blast and it happens too fast. The youth will return to school in August, but they will take with them lifelong memories and new experiences. The Back to School event will be held on Thursday, August 19, 2021 at the Community Learning Center. Please join us as we get ready for a fantastic 2021-2022 school year.

BE PREPARED FOR EXTREME HEAT

Extreme heat often results in the highest annual number of deaths among all weather-related disasters.

In most of the U.S., extreme heat is a long period (2 to 3 days) of high heat and humidity with temperatures above 90 degrees.

Greater risk  Can happen anywhere  Humidity increases the feeling of heat as measured by a heat index

IF YOU ARE UNDER AN EXTREME HEAT WARNING

Find air conditioning, if possible.  Check on family members and neighbors.

Avoid strenuous activities.  Drink plenty of fluids.

Watch for heat illness.  Watch for heat cramps, heat exhaustion, and heat stroke.

Wear light clothing.  Never leave people or pets in a closed car.
HOW TO STAY SAFE
WHEN EXTREME HEAT THREATENS

Prepare NOW

Find places in your community where you can go to get cool.

Try to keep your home cool:
- Cover windows with drapes or shades.
- Weather-strip doors and windows.
- Use window reflectors such as aluminum foil-covered cardboard to reflect heat back outside.
- Add insulation to keep the heat out.
- Use a powered attic ventilator, or attic fan, to regulate the heat level of a building’s attic by clearing hot air.
- Install window air conditioners and insulate around them.

Learn to recognize the signs of heat illness. For more information visit: www.cdc.gov/disasters/extremeheat/warning.html.

Never leave a child, adult, or animal alone inside a vehicle on a warm day.

Find places with air conditioning. Libraries, shopping malls, and community centers can provide a cool place to take a break from the heat.

If you’re outside, find shade. Wear a hat wide enough to protect your face.

Wear loose, lightweight, light-colored clothing.

Drink plenty of fluids to stay hydrated. If you or someone you care for is on a special diet, ask a doctor what would be best.

Do not use electric fans when the temperature outside is more than 95 degrees. You could increase the risk of heat-related illness. Fans create airflow and a false sense of comfort, but do not reduce body temperature.

Avoid high-energy activities.

Check yourself, family members, and neighbors for signs of heat-related illness.

Be Safe DURING

Recognize +RESPOND

Know the signs and ways to treat heat-related illness.

Heat Cramps
- Signs: Muscle pains or spasms in the stomach, arms, or legs.
- Actions: Go to a cooler location. Remove excess clothing. Take sips of cool sports drinks with salt and sugar. Get medical help if cramps last more than an hour.

Heat Exhaustion
- Signs: Heavy sweating, paleness, muscle cramps, tiredness, weakness, dizziness, headache, nausea or vomiting, and fainting.
- Actions: Go to an air-conditioned place and lie down. Loosen or remove clothing. Take a cool bath. Take sips of cool sports drinks with salt and sugar. Get medical help if symptoms get worse or last more than an hour.

Heat Stroke
- Signs: Extremely high body temperature (above 103 degrees) indicated by an oral thermometer; red, hot, and dry skin with no sweat; rapid, strong pulse; dizziness; confusion; and unconsciousness.
- Actions: Call 9-1-1 or get the person to a hospital immediately. Cool down with whatever methods are available until medical help arrives.

Take an Active Role in Your Safety

Go to Ready.gov and search for extreme heat. Download the FEMA app to get more information about preparing for extreme heat.

Dry conditions in much of the United States can increase the potential for wildfires in or near wilderness areas. Stay alert for wildfire smoke. This smoke can hurt your eyes, irritate your respiratory system, and worsen chronic heart and lung diseases.

Who is at greatest risk from wildfire smoke?

- People who have heart or lung diseases, like heart disease, lung disease, or asthma, are at higher risk from wildfire smoke.
- Older adults are more likely to be affected by smoke. This may be due to their increased risk of heart and lung diseases.
- Children are more likely to be affected by health threats from smoke. Children’s airways are still developing and they breathe more air per pound of body weight than adults. Also, children often spend more time outdoors engaged in activity and play.
- Pregnant women may be more likely to be affected by smoke because of physical changes during pregnancy, like increased breathing rates. Pregnant women affected by smoke may also be at risk for problems such as preterm birth and babies born with low birth weight.

Take steps to decrease your risk from wildfire smoke.

- Be prepared for wildfires.
- Check local air quality reports. Listen and watch for news or health warnings about smoke. Find out if your community provides reports about the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s Air Quality Index (AQI). In addition, pay attention to public health messages about safety measures.
- Consult local visibility guides. Some communities have monitors that measure the amount of particles in the air. In the western United States, some states and communities have guidelines to help people determine if there are high levels of particulates in the air by how far they can see.
- Keep indoor air as clean as possible if you are advised to stay indoors. Keep windows and doors closed. Run an air conditioner, but keep the fresh-air intake closed and the filter clean to prevent outdoor smoke from getting inside. If you do not have an air conditioner and it is too warm to stay inside with the windows closed, go to a designated shelter away from the affected area.
- Avoid activities that increase indoor pollution. Burning candles, fireplaces, or gas stoves can increase indoor pollution. Vacuuming stirs up particles already inside your home, contributing to indoor pollution. Smoking also puts even more pollution into the air.
- Prevent wildfires from starting. Prepare, build, maintain, and extinguish campfires safely. Follow local regulations if you burn trash or debris. Check with your local fire department to be sure the weather is safe enough for burning.
- Follow the advice of your doctor or other healthcare provider about medicines and about your respiratory management plan if you have asthma or another lung disease. Consider evacuating if you are having trouble breathing. Call your doctor for advice if your symptoms worsen.
- If you are pregnant, continue with your prenatal care. Talk to your healthcare provider about where to get prenatal or delivery services if the office is closed. Know the signs of labor and early labor. If you have the signs, call your healthcare provider or 9-1-1, or go to the hospital right away if it is safe to travel.
- Do not rely on dust masks for protection. Paper “comfort” or “dust” masks commonly found at hardware stores are designed to trap large particles, such as sawdust. These masks will not protect your lungs from the small particles found in wildfire smoke.
- Evacuate from the path of wildfires. Listen to the news to learn about current evacuation orders. Follow the instructions of local officials about when and where to evacuate. Take only essential items with you. Follow designated evacuation routes—others may be blocked—and plan for heavy traffic.

Protect yourself cleaning up after a fire. Cleanup work can expose you to ash and other products of the fire that may irritate your eyes, nose, or skin and cause coughing and other health effects.
As Delta Spreads, Nevada Sees a Surge

Cases are rising in several states, like Nevada, where vaccinations lag and the Delta variant is spreading. It now accounts for half of U.S. cases. More than 2,700 U.S. inmates have died with Covid, but the real toll could be higher.

As the speed of vaccinations has slowed around the United States, reported coronavirus cases are on the rise in several states, including Nevada, where nearly 40 percent of the adult population has not gotten a shot.

Nevada had the third-highest count of new coronavirus cases per capita of any state as of Wednesday, with 14 per 100,000 people, trailing only Missouri (where 45 percent of the population has had at least one shot) and Arkansas (where 42 percent have gotten at least one shot).

But Nevada had the highest increase in average number of hospitalizations, which had risen nearly 62 percent over the previous two weeks, to 441. Dr. Fermin Leguen, the district health officer for Nevada’s southern district, which includes Clark County, said that about 95 percent of Covid patients hospitalized in the past three months had not been vaccinated.

Both Nevada and Missouri have asked for help from federal “surge response teams” that the White House announced last week to help states with largely unvaccinated populations cope with the highly transmissible Delta variant of the virus. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that about 73 percent of the coronavirus infections in Missouri involve the Delta variant, as do about 40 percent of the cases in Nevada.

The C.D.C. now estimates that Delta has become the dominant variant across the United States. Only full vaccination affords significant protection against it. Fifty-three percent of the country’s population has not been fully vaccinated, including many children under 12 who are not eligible. And persuading unvaccinated people to get inoculated is a critical challenge for the government.

President Biden this week renewed his call to the nation to get vaccinated — pressing employers to give employees paid time off to get inoculated and to offer vaccines at work — after the country failed to meet his goal of at least partly vaccinating 70 percent of American adults by July 4.

For most of the country, the virus has receded. The seven-day average of new reported cases has held steady at about 12,000 a day, the lowest totals since testing became widely available. That is a drastic drop from the worst days of the pandemic last winter, when new cases sometimes averaged more than 250,000 a day, according to a New York Times database.

The surge in Nevada has also not come near winter’s levels, but the Times database shows that the seven-day average of cases there is about double what it was a month ago when Gov. Steve Sisolak, a Democrat, relaxed most of the state’s coronavirus restrictions. Most of the state’s surge in cases is in Clark County, home to Las Vegas and most of the state’s population. The city rejoiced when tourists were allowed return to the casinos, theaters and other entertainments on the strip without limitations after more than a year of economic stagnation.

In a statement last week, Mr. Sisolak connected the state’s rise in cases to the emergence of the Delta variant and the low rate of vaccination in Clark County, where only 39 percent of the population is fully vaccinated. But Brian Labus, an infectious-disease epidemiologist at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, linked the rise to the relaxation of restrictions.

“It’s not necessarily reopening the strip to tourists — it’s that our entire community is open 100 percent,” Dr. Labus said. “It’s not just the resort hotels. It’s every restaurant, store and business in southern Nevada.”

Fourth of July Parade 2021

Jill Wright tribalnews@fpst.org

While Covid-19 impacted last year’s plans, this holiday looked more like it used to: family gatherings, parades, barbecues and of course, fireworks.

The Fallon tribe participated in this year’s Fourth of July Parade. Volunteers helped with pre-parade planning and the actual event as they dressed up and decorated tribal vehicles with red, white, and blue creativity as they rode in the Fourth of July Parade celebration. Various tribal departments were represented in the parade; Tribal Law Enforcement, Environmental, Health Clinic, Vocational Rehabilitation, Senior Center, Community Learning Center and FTDC. The streets of Fallon were lined up with spectators as volunteers through candy out to the crowds.

The tribe won the award, “Best use of theme” category.

There were so many patriotic entries. We would like to thank all the volunteers and the youth, you made it a great parade and we look forward to an even better parade in 2022.

NV ENERGY SCAM ALERT

NV Energy has recently seen a significant increase in scam calls to our business and residential customers. The callers falsely identify themselves as NV Energy and threaten immediate disconnection and demand immediate payment, often via Zelle or MoneyPak card.

Please be on alert for these fraudulent calls. NV Energy does not call customers to demand immediate payment for any reason. Customers who may be at risk of having their power disconnected because of nonpayment will receive a 10-day notice on their NV Energy bill and a 48-hour notice via U.S. Mail. NV Energy does not accept payments via Zelle, MoneyPak or Venmo.

If you receive a call asking for immediate payment of any kind, refuse and report the scam to NV Energy. You can also check your account at nvenergy.com/myaccount.

Please share this important information with your family and friends. We don't want any of our customers to become the victim of a scam.

We Care About Your Safety

Sometimes deceitful people attempt to imitate NV Energy employees—both over the phone and in the community—trying to gain access to your property or information.

Unfortunately, utility scams are growing more frequent and sophisticated. Please keep the following information and tips in mind to protect yourself and avoid falling victim to a scam.

We kindly ask that you report scam activity—even if you have not suffered a financial loss—so that we can do our part to prevent others from falling victim.

Please call our dedicated scam phone line, or report scam activity to us online below. You are also encouraged to file a report with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC)

SOCIAL DISTANCING – TRIBAL POINTS-OF-CONTACT

We are encouraging our tribal members and residents to stay at home as much as possible with the coronavirus situation in the country. We know that you have tribal business that needs to be done but a lot of these items can be done either by phone or by email. So before you come in please try to phone or email the points-of-contact below to see if we can get your issue addressed without coming into a building. Your phone call or email will be answered by the individual or referred to the appropriate person and they will get back in touch with you as soon as possible. Thank you.
