Celebrating Earth Day for 52 Years!

Fifty-two years ago, a nationwide protest to increase environmental awareness turned out to be a huge success that is still known today as Earth Day. In 1970, more than 20 million people participated in rallies and teach-ins across the United States and Canada, sparking a movement that is now observed by over a billion people in 193 countries around the world.

As a result of Earth Day, the Environmental Protection Agency was developed, the Endangered Species Act, as well as other critical laws, including the Clean Air Act and the Clean Water Act, to protect air and water quality. In 2016, the United Nations chose Earth Day to sign the Paris Agreement, a landmark event that brought together almost 200 countries in an effort to limit global warming.

The Fallon Paiute-Shoshone Tribe's Environmental Protection Department has observed Earth Day for the past 22 years with community events to mark this anniversary. Amid a global corona virus pandemic, the FPST Environmental Protection Department had to postpone the last two year events.

We are excited to announce that we will be once again be hosting our Earth Day Celebration at Oats Park on Saturday, May 7th, from 10 a.m.—2 p.m.

The Environmental Protection Department would like to thank the community for coming out and supporting our Earth Day events these past 22 years and look forward to seeing you all again for future celebrations.

Happy Earth Day!

Every year on April 22, Earth Day marks the anniversary of the birth of the modern environmental movement in 1970. Earth Day 1970 gave a voice to public consciousness about the state of the environment and our planet. Until this point, mainstream America remained largely oblivious to environmental concerns and how a polluted environment threatens human health.

Today, the fight for a clean environment continues with increasing urgency, as the ravages of climate change become more and more apparent every day. As the awareness of our climate crisis grows, so does civil society mobilization across the globe today.

Movie Night: Powwow Highway

WHEN: Thursday, April 21, 2022
Movie Starts at 6:00 p.m.

WHERE: Fox Peak Cinema

Join us for a free movie at Fox Peak Cinema! From the Northern Cheyenne tribe of Lame Deer, Montana, two men take a road trip from Montana to New Mexico.

As a ploy to get Buddy Redbow off the reservation during a suspicious land grab deal, greedy corporate land grabbers framed his sister, Bonnie, so she would be arrested in Santa Fe. Buddy asks Philbert Bono, his easy going friend, to drive him to New Mexico to help Bonnie. On the way, they begin to reconnect to their spiritual heritage and make many culturally significant stops along the way. The corporate land grabbers do what they can to prevent Buddy from making it back to Lame Deer, as the shady land deal ensues.

Rating: R (language, brief nudity)

Pick up your free movie pass wristband today at FPST Environmental Dept. @ 1011 Rio Vista Dr. or the Tribal Admin building @ 565 Rio Vista Dr. Passes will also be available 15 minutes before show time at Fox Peak Cinema.

Sign-Up to have your Home Tested for Lead Based Paint

The Environmental Department will soon be conducting sampling for lead based paint. Lead based paint was banned in 1978 because of health concerns. Even if painted over, paint chipping can still pose as a health risk factor.

There are 48 inventoried pre-1978 homes on the reservation. If you are interested in having your home sampled, please contact Sonia @ soniaenviro@fpst.org or call 775.423.0590. To learn more and to sign up, we will have a sign-up sheet at our registration booth at Earth Day.
